SMALL DETAILS
CREATE THE BIGGER PICTURE

At BECK London, it's the detail that drives us.

Making a door close silently. Fitting a join on the reception desk corner seamlessly. Book-matching veneers and marble to create the perfect butterfly pattern.

As a leading fit-out expert to some of the world's great names in luxury hospitality and retail, this quest for perfection determines who we work for, who we partner with and how we deliver it. And why we've become the benchmark for exceptional fit-out standards.

Because just like in the hotel, restaurant, bar and retail world, the smallest detail reflects who we are.

Ideas are nothing unless you know what to do with them.

At BECK London, knowledge is king. But so is knowing how to use it.

Our people are masters of taking complex design ideas and translating them into outstanding interiors, communicating brands brilliantly in the physical space.

We employ expert technicians, craftspeople and specialists, and only work with a trusted supply chain to maintain the standard of excellence that has become our trademark.

Bringing exceptional ideas to life on every project.

Setting the highest standards of excellence.

At BECK London, our comprehensive range of in-house services take a project from blueprint to a luxurious finished interior.

HARD ROCK HOTEL LONDON

MARYLEBONE, LONDON

Extensive fast-track design and build refurbishment whilst keeping the hotel open to guests.

Working in close partnership with our client and professional team, we carried out works to the ground floor of the former Cumberland Hotel on Oxford Street to relaunch as the Hard Rock Hotel.

Building on the worldwide chain of Hard Rock Cafés founded in 1971, this is the 24th Hard Rock Hotel to open globally and the first in the UK and bills itself as a haven for music lovers.

The space comprises a new open-plan lobby with bar, a cocktail bar, Rock Shop, Rock Royalty VIP Lounge and the Hard Rock Café, which includes a stage for live music performances. Joinery for the bar areas was manufactured at our in-house workshop in Surrey.

As the hotel remained operational throughout, a key challenge was to ensure that our works had a minimal effect on the guest experience.

HOME GROWN CLUB

MARYLEBONE, LONDON

A major refurbishment of an exclusive private members club for high-growth entrepreneurs.

The team behind Home House created a private members club aimed at high-growth entrepreneurs, and asked BECK London to undertake the refurbishment.

Working on four Grade II-listed Georgian townhouses takes careful consideration to respect the buildings' heritage status. Each floor timber was lifted and numbered, refurbished and reinstated in the same position. We restored the façades and lightwells, installing new doors, windows, Portland stone balconies and railings, and built a new mansard roof extension with dormer windows and a plant enclosure in full compliance with heritage planning.

Our internal refurbishment of the entire building provided 35 stunning boutique bedrooms, as well as business lounges, bar, pitching suites, restaurant and catering facilities. Part of our brief was to restore and reinstate lost architectural features, with bespoke joinery including new bars, panelling, reception desk and banquette seating custom-made by our own in-house joinery workshop.

“An elegant space for big ideas and like-minded people to thrive”

FUTURES OF THE FUTURE

22 June - 05 August 2018

Refurbishment of the cultural home of Japan in London, with retail, dining and bar spaces.

Japan House presents the very best of Japanese art, design, gastronomy, innovation and technology over its three storeys, with extensive events spaces, exhibition hall and a large retail area, along with a luxurious restaurant, bar and private dining spaces.

Working with the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs, BECK London completed the full refurbishment of the project in 34 weeks. This included forming two new lift pits and shafts, completing structural alterations to form an opening for a new helical staircase and a glass lift, along with the installation of new mechanical, electrical and extensive AV services throughout the building. Our in-house joinery workshop designed and manufactured a large bright white café counter and an impressively lit display wall housing the best of Japanese products. Finishes included the laying of large areas of handmade tiles, polished concrete and brilliant white resin flooring.

BECK London designed and manufactured a significant quantity of bespoke joinery including eating and sake bars, traditional Japanese tatami spaces, jewellery cases and large feature display walls.

THE PERCEPTION AT W LONDON

LEICESTER SQUARE, LONDON

Refurbishment of the W Hotel's existing bar and restaurant area to become one of central London's most exciting night-time haunts.

The bar and lounge of Leicester Square's luxury hotel was transformed through innovative design using subtle, abstract references to the city's role in fashion, music and design.

The multiple focal points and break-out areas contrast high-end bespoke finishes brought together by a fully intelligently lit gold bead curtain that ebbs and flows throughout the entire space.

BECK London developed and manufactured the bespoke joinery and finishes to a specific practical brief within strict time constraints and budget, resulting in the Perception Bar being a place to be seen in central London.

ROLEX

Fit-out of the brand's flagship store on Regent Street with twelve individual brand boutiques.

Set over three floors, Europe's largest luxury watch showroom's sleek aesthetics provides the perfect backdrop for some of the world's finest timepieces and the ultimate in VIP service.

The unique store's twelve exceptionally appointed brand boutiques were all managed and co-ordinated by BECK London for Rolex, Breitling, Cartier, Jaeger-LeCoultre and Chopard, as well as an exclusive Patek Philippe boutique with its own VIP area.

One of the store's highlights is the Calibre Room, laid with Calacatta marble with impressive stainless steel and walnut panelling fixtures and fittings, as well as the smoky marble floors and jewel-toned carpeting and furniture throughout.

Many of the joinery elements were manufactured in our workshop which enabled BECK London to manage quality control, guaranteeing the client's high expectations.

THE HIPPODROME CASINO

LEICESTER SQUARE, LONDON

Redevelopment of the iconic London landmark building into a multi-use entertainment complex.

The former variety theatre had suffered from deterioration through lack of repair and maintenance for a century, to the point where significant features were beyond saving. The building needed extensive reimagining, remodelling and renovation.

The Hippodrome needed a main contractor who had experience in multi-faceted projects and had significant in-house resources for the restoration of the building itself. BECK London was chosen to manage the project from the final construction elements through to completion.

We developed the interior designer's concept using our in-house artisans, workshop and manufacturing facility. The end result is a remarkable mixed-use building, with a casino, restaurant, bars and outside smoking terrace, as well as a fabulous 200-seat cabaret venue.
